TUESDAY EVENING. AUG. 9, 1904.

The Grand Canyon. Once, crossing a little tributary of the Colorado, I found that every drop splashed on my clothes hardened to a lump of mud and that where the water was but a foot deep my horse was nearly washed away by its force.

That fact, Roger Pocock says in an article in Pearson's, told me the secret of the Grand canyon. Like the Nile, the Colorado flows through a desert. but the river of Egypt meanders softly and muddily over low plains, spread-ing when it is full into harmless lakes, whereas this headlong sluice of run-ning sand, launched at the naked rocks, has the cutting powers of a huge steel saw. The country has risen perhaps an inch a year, but the torrent, instead of spreading out over the land, has sawed through the lifting rocks. The country has risen to a height of 8,000 feet, while still the Colorado flows at the ancient level, only 2,000 feet above the sea. That is the reason of this profound abyss for 600 miles through the very foundations of the world. In all, 36,000,000 cubic miles of solid rock have been ground in this vast mall and hurled into the gulf of California.

Human Breath and Bees.

Bees are revived by human breath, even when apparently dead. An old writer on the subject describes how, during a very wet May, he discovered a hive which had been working well previously whose tenants seemed to be dead, but by putting a few of them into his hand and breathing upon them for several minutes he at last observed some motion at the second joint of their borns. By persevering he re-vived them all, and they became the best hive in his garden. He is, how-ever, careful to remark that those who use pomatum, perfume or hair powder should not make too free with the in-sects during the process of restoration.

The secret, of course-though at one time the thing was regarded as mirac ulous-is in the warmth conveyed; but besides this, there is no doubt that bees are roused by human breath, to which PARK AGNEW, they have such an antipathy that they are much more easily handled if the operator draws his breath gently and takes care not to direct it against them -London Standard.

A State That Breathes.

If ever a state might be said to breathe, that state is California. It has a magnificent lung action, says the Sunset Magazine. Deep and long drawn are the breaths of ocean air taken by the great valleys. And you can almost see this breathing if you will go to the top of any of the hills bordering the bay of San Francisco. In general, air move-ment or wind is initiated by difference of temperature. Therefore on summer afternoons while the broad ocean lies tranquilly sleeping at a temperature of 55 degrees F. the inland valleys are basking in the same sunlight, but the air a few feet above the ground is quivering at a temperature of 100 degrees F. In other words, there is a tempera ture gradient of 1 degree per mile, and of the air, the motion being from the cool to the warm locality.

An amusing story told by Hood describes how a country nurseryman made a large sum out of sales of a simple little flower which he sold un der the name of the Rhodum sidus. This charming name proved quite an at-traction to the ladies, and the flower became the rage of the season. It was one of those freaks of fashion for which there is no accounting. At length a botanist who found that the plant was not an uncommon weed requested to know where the nurseryman got the name from. He elicited the following reply: "I found this flower in the road beside us, so christened it the Rhodum

All Fixed Beforehand It is said that one of the most invet erate writers out of speeches was the late Lord Derby, of whom the story went that the manuscript of one of his most statesmanlike discourses, being picked up from the floor, where it had fallen, was found not only to be freely sprinkled with "Hear, hear!" "Laughter," and "Applause," but also to contain a passage beginning, "But I am detaining you too long [cries of 'No, no!' and 'Go on!']."

WE MAKE OUR MISTAKES LIKE EVERYBODY ELSE.

But there is one mistake that we could not possibly make. Selling trashy goods. We have nothing to do with makers that ever make such stuff, not even for SALES. We have to be extremely careful when we buy for less than things are worth. But you, madam, who don't see the wisdom of pay-ing as much as good goods have to cost, you wen't come to us. Very well, we come to you. Here are good goods for almost as little as you pay for the sort that you are ashamed of. We make very little on what we sell you now. When you have learned your lesson you will be more than glad to pay us and the maker our regular profits.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroy? this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Sond 10c, in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
